I have a few queries that I wrote using Sequelize. I used Node.js version 10.6.0, Node.js v8.9.4 and sequelize v5.24.1. I am trying to write a query that returns id and title of an article that a given user liked. (I don't include the criteria in the query code.) The problem is that when I execute this query, the value returned for articleTitle will be two different values. The query is as follows: const articleTitle = await db.V1Article.findAll({ where: { article_id: { [Sequelize.Op.eq]: article
